Dear Brothers/Sisters:

Re: National Day of Mourning – April 28th

April 28th is observed as the National Day of Mourning in Canada. On this date we stand together to remember workers who have been killed or injured on the job.

Every year hundreds of workers are killed and many more permanently disabled from work related injury and disease. Their loss is felt every day at work by their co-workers, at home by their loved ones and within their communities by neighbors and friends.

On April 28th please take a moment to remember our sisters and brothers who will never see their families or never return to work because of an injury. I encourage you to take part in activities or ceremonies that may be taking place in your community to commemorate this day.

In solidarity,
